ATTEMPTED MURDER

A Galician Makes a Poor Job of Killing.

Early this morning the authorities were notified that a man had killed his wife and thereafter committed suicide. The message stated that tragedy had taken place back of the premises of Dr. Howard. Deputy Marshal Chillingworth proceeded at once to the place but found no traces of tragedies. Later on he learned that the shooting had been done on premises adjoining those of Dr. Alvarez on Emma street.

Upon his arrival he found a slightly injured woman and a dying man. Both were Galicians and the shooting had been done by the husband in a fit of jealousy. The man found his wife in flagrante delicto. He didn't shoot his punalua, but went for the woman. She got out of bed and told the husband that his name was mud and that he needn't call around again. The irate man drew his second-hand revolver and fired a shot which inflicted a flesh wound in the breast of the woman who naturally went into hysterics. He then tried to end his own miserable life and pumped two lead pellets into his neck.

The woman will live and it is very possible that the man will recover. Dr. Day is in attendance but it has not been considered advisable to remove the injured man. Deputy Marshal Chillingworth is investigating the case.

A Beautiful Wedding.

The splendid home of Mrs. H. A. Widemann at Punahou was decorated last evening with the lavish floral gifts of Hawaii. The occasion was the marriage of Carl Widemann, the head of the well-known family, to Helen Parker the favorite belle in the society circles of Hawaii.

Owing to the recent bereavement in the Widemann family only the relations and intimate friends of the contracting parties were present at the impressive ceremony at which Rev. Father Leonore officiated. After the words had been pronounced which made Carl and Helen "husband and wife," an informal reception was held and the happy couple received the congratulations of friends in all stations of life; of all creeds and nationalities.

A true sign of the popularity of the young people was the costly gifts which were sent to the bride during the day. We don't think that the equal has ever been seen in Honolulu, not alone in regard to the value of the presents but in regard to the exquisite taste exhibited by the donors.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Widemann will leave for Mana, the country seat of Mr. Samuel Parker, by the Iwalani this afternoon and will probably visit the volcano prior to their return to the city. The Independent wishes the distinguished young Hawaiian couple a prosperous future and all the happiness allotted to man.
